

November 10, 2025 at 4:45 a.m.: On Vehicle Interaction and the Subject Matter it Involves

I am writing to record the factual interactions of vehicles driving past our house this morning to interact with me as soon as I opened my eyes and began stirring in bed this morning and with regard to the following religious content:

Bô'az; H1162; from an unused root of uncertain meaning; Boaz the ancestor of David

You can ask the learned members of the United States government and their team of peeping toms what it is about Bo-az that gets them so excited.

I can only imagine that they have nothing more to learn from the Bible other than the same thing they learned in the world - nothing.

On a side note: has anyone else noticed how disgusting everyone in the Trump administration looks these days? Participating in evil sure does take its toll on the way people look and present themselves, does it not. Yuck - horrible, disgusting creatures.

P.S. On a special note about the interaction with my work this morning, I want to also point out that I have turned 'off' the Wifi on my computer while I work. This is not the first time that I have experienced ongoing spying whether my computer is 'connected to Wifi' or not. In fact, I have experimented with turning off my own router and internet connection and still experienced the same spying intrusions. That was the first clue that led me to understand that this spying presence was coming from inside of Space-X, the worldwide satellite internet provider. The evil goblin king will stop at nothing to rape our home with his intrusive spying presence. What a loser.
